

HW #2

- We saw that a 2-counter machine can simulate all recursive functions, even though it cannot compute all.
- Similarly, even though the lambda calculus is “Turing-complete”, there are many computable functions that it cannot compute.
- Find such examples for the lambda calculus. You can use known results to support your claim.